

Introduction

Contributed by Administrator
Wednesday, 19 December 2007
Last Updated Saturday, 28 August 2010

The purpose of the House of Mercury is to provide valuable goods and services to all in EVE without prejudice or favoritism. To that end it seeks to remain neutral with regards to all conflicts in-game, dedicated instead purely to production, industry, mining, trade, research etc. It will do this through mutual defense of member corporation interests, as well as providing corporations for membership of individuals to join the alliance.

Members of this alliance will not be permitted to publicly and overtly take sides in any other alliance disputes. The House will uphold the anti-slavery laws of any state it is in - and will respect the freedom of all wherever it is upheld. The House will not unduly favour any particular corporation or alliance against another. Family members must uphold this respect of other powers and remain courteous at all times. Any threats of hostility against the House of Mercury must be immediately reported.

Contact Iron Overlord in game for more information, or join the in-game channel House of Mercury.